

Learn about changes in the law that have had an impact on estate planning, including changes to conservatorship laws.

Register for the LawTalk by calling the Knoxville Bar Association at (865) 522-6522 or register online at www.knoxbar.org.

This series provides valuable education but also emphasizes how important it is to plan ahead. By planning ahead, you can avoid extra expenses and a lot of problems.

2015 LawTalk

Know your rights ...for free!

The LawTalk series is a free program focused on sharing information with the public about their legal rights and the role these rights play in their daily lives. The FREE seminars will be taught by practicing attorneys who are volunteers with the Knoxville Bar Association.

Friday, November 6

O'Connor Senior Center
611 Winona Street

Saturday, November 7

Fellowship Church
8000 Middlebrook Pike

See www.knoxbar.org for registration form and directions.

Pre-registration is encouraged, but not required. Student handbooks will be distributed.

Questions about the law? We've got answers.

9:00 a.m. - 10:45 a.m.

Wills & Estate Planning for Everyone

Where there's a will - there's a family provided for by a thoughtful loved one. Learn about changes in the law that have had an impact on estate planning, including changes to conservatorship laws. Topics of discussion include wills and trusts, gift and tax planning, probate options in Tennessee and the importance of living wills and powers of attorney. This session will also address the planning necessary to assure that in case of legal incapacity, your wishes regarding financial and health care decisions will be followed.

Choose one or attend both courses

11:00 a.m. - 12:45 p.m.

Legal Protection for Elderly, the Disabled & their Caregivers

We'll discuss the following topics: The latest news in government benefits programs and how those programs may/may not pay for long term care; the best way for seniors to "pay" family members for caregiving; "special needs" planning for disabled family members; recent attempts to bring physician-assisted suicide to Tennessee; new financial products being marketed to seniors; and why the federal government could care less about your Power of Attorney.

Program Partner:
East Tennessee
Personal Care Service

Register for the LawTalk by calling the Knoxville Bar Association at (865) 522-6522 or register online at www.knoxbar.org.

If you would be interested in a free thirty minute consultation to discuss these matters with an attorney, please contact the KBA Lawyer Referral Service at (865) 522-7501 or request a referral online at www.knoxbar.org.

Your trusted source for lawyer referrals.